ACADEMY OF CHINESE MARTIAL & CULTURAL ARTS QUARTLERY NEWS

QUARTERLY NEWS UPDATE FOR THE SHAOLIN HUNG MEI KUNG FU ASSOCIATION AND THE ACADEMY OF CHINESE MARITAL & CULTURAL ARTS

Welcome to the first issue of the Academy Connection, our means for letting you know the latest goings on of Academy of Chinese Martial and Cultural Arts as well as the many Asian Pacific American organizations with which we work. The Newsletter is presently planned as a quarterly vehicle consisting of several regular and various special columns depending upon what has been happening in the months leading up to a new issue. We encourage and hope that all of you will contribute with personal stories of note. We would be happy to include everything that we can!!

This newsletter is a tool to be used by you - our members, families and friends.

As such, we solicit your feedback especially at this early stage of development. Let us know what you think, areas needing improvement, subjects to be omitted and so on. Remember... if you don't say something, we won't know.

A special thanks to Denise Anderson for managing the process getting this thing off the ground. At times, such a process can be brain damaging, but for the most part, it can be fun. And thanks to you, our members, families and friends, for taking the time out of your busy days to read the newsletter. We hope that it provides you with some bits of news that you find informative and helpful.

The Shaolin Hung Mei Kung Fu Association and the Academy of Chinese Martial & Cultural Arts are 501 (C) (3) non-profit associations dedicated to the integration, instruction and promotion of authentic Chinese martial and cultural arts.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR SUPPORT!

NEWS IN BRIEF

The Academy of Chinese Martial and Cultural Arts was pleased to host Master Boon Yap on September 4, 2008, for a free public talk entitled Feng Shui for Enriching Lives. Over 30 people attended the event in which Master Boon explained that Feng Shui is not really about how to exploit the energies and qualities of the world for just our individual benefit, rather it is about bringing harmonious balance so the crucial life giving qualities of the world can flow naturally and freely to enrich our lives. Master Boon was in town for her 2 day seminar on Eight Mansions School of Feng Shui.

Stay tuned for Master Boon's return to ACMCA!

INTRODUCING THE ACADEMY OF CHINESE MARTIAL & CULTURAL ARTS BY SHIFU SOLOW

Many of you know of the Shaolin Hung Mei Kung Fu Association, its Kung Fu training, performances and community service activities. However, there many pieces of the organization that few are aware of. For example... did you know that SHMKF is a 501(c)(3), non-profit organization that is 100% volunteer based? For the past 16 years, we have sustained our operations almost exclusively on the hard work and dedication of our students and on the grant monies and donations that we've received.

Shifu Howard Solow

Also... how many of you know that in 2002, SHMKF founded the Academy of Chinese Martial and Cultural Arts? Since first opening its doors, the Academy has been home to Hung Mei and the Gu Feng Tai Chi Club, and has hosted a great variety of other on-going programs and special events (see highlights later in this newsletter).

We have now reached a crossroads in our evolution as an organization. In the original structure, SHMKF not only conducted its classes in traditional Kung Fu and Lion/Dragon performance training and performed in over 50 events each year, but managed all operations of the Academy. As the demands on an all volunteer organization like ours are extreme, we have not been able to promote the activities of the Academy to the extent they deserve. As a result, we have decided to change the structure of the organization and establish the Academy as a self-sustaining entity in its own right.

In the new architecture, The Academy will be the managing entity for 2 branches of activities – On-Going Programs and Special Events. The On-Going Programs are those activities that occur at the same time and on the same days, week after week. The Programs will be independently operated but will share use of the facility and its resources. Special Events are one-time activities such as lectures, workshops, music recitals, art exhibits, and more. Such events can either be hosted (we provide the facility and possibly some other resources) or sponsored (the activity is an Academy event and we are responsible for everything from initial planning to final production). In this new architecture, SHMKF will be one of the programs rather than the managing entity.

Once the infrastructure and identity for the new Academy are established, it will become a major resource for activities, events, and resources related to Chinese culture. Please join us in this fabulous journey and enjoy everything that the Academy can now and will be able to offer.

DONATIONS

Since inception, SHMKF & ACMCA have been volunteer-driven organizations. Our main sources of income have been minimal membership dues, performances, sub-leases and grants. Now, with help of financial support from friends and sponsorships from local business, we intend to take the organization to a whole new level.

Help us reach our goals with a tax deductible donation. Visit our web site at www.academychinesearts.org to make a donation online.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR SUPPORT!

MOVING CLOUDS AND RUNNING WATER

BY LAURA TING

The Gu Feng Tai Chi Club (GFTCC) is celebrating her 8th year of “Tranquility in Motion” – teaching Tai Chi and Qigong in Boulder, Colorado. GFTCC is a 501(C)(3) non profit, volunteer run organization comprised of more than 60 members from many walks of life, cultures and a wide range of ages ranging from college students to retired professionals. “Gu Feng” is a Chinese word literally meaning “Ancient Wind” or “Classical Style”. The Club seeks to embody the values of character, discipline and community and to promote long term tai chi practice for physical and spiritual well being.

Tai Chi (Taiji) is a branch of traditional Chinese martial arts based on the Taoist philosophy that life and the universe are combinations and constant exchanges of Yin and Yang. The fundamental concepts of Tai Chi exercise are to be gentle yet firm, overcome toughness with softness, and achieve tranquility in motion. It is an excellent exercise for people of varying levels of fitness; a superior system for harmonizing humans with nature and the body with the mind; and an advanced system of self-defense. Today it is widely practiced as a form of exercise, meditation and relaxation and is gaining popularity in the West for developing positive energy as an antidote to the stressful, modern lifestyle.

The Club teaches and practices a variety of Tai Chi forms based on Yang and Chen styles Tai Chi. Beginners are introduced to Tai Chi by learning the 24 Posture Simplified Yang Style Form. More experienced members will learn and practice traditional Chen style forms and Taijijian (sword). In addition to Tai Chi, the Club teaches Qigong exercises based on the theory of traditional Chinese medicine and Taoist philosophy. Instruction is given both in Chinese and English when possible. The Club invites guest teachers from the ranks of world leading masters.

One of the important activities of the Club is to promote quality Tai Chi teaching and share traditional Chinese culture with the community. The members of the Club frequently give Tai Chi demonstrations in Boulder and vicinity. Instructors also offer Tai Chi classes at local Chinese language schools, recreation centers and senior housing.

Due to the limitation of the classroom and class availability, there is currently a waiting list for joining the Club. The Club does not discriminate on the basis of race, creed, color, gender, sexual orientation, age, national or ethnic origin in membership admittance or other practices.

To have your name added to the Gu Feng Tai Chi Club Wait List, please e-mail secretary@gufengtaichi.org.

Regular Session: 10:30am - 12:30pm, Sundays (winter hours)

Additional: 5:00pm - 7:00pm, Tuesday Practice Time

INTRODUCTION TO THE BOHUA CHINESE SCHOOL

The Bohua Chinese School (Bohua) was founded in 1995 in Boulder, Colorado, by a group of Chinese students and scholars. Its initial purpose was to teach Chinese language to children of the local Chinese community composed of students, visiting scholars, working professionals, and other Chinese immigrants. The first semester started in the fall of 1995, and three classes were offered: Kindergarten, Basic Chinese and Advanced Chinese.

During the first few years, Bohua experienced not only rapid increase in enrollment, but witnessed the formation of a group of core volunteers and teachers whose dedication was critical to a sustainable and stable future growth. In 1998, the school leadership made the decision to seek official status for the organization. The school became a Colorado nonprofit corporation on November 13, 1998 and, on July 29, 1999, Bohua was recognized as an organization exempt from federal tax under Section 501(3) (C) of the Internal Revenue Code.

In the "Articles of Corporation" filed with the State of Colorado, the following four persons are named as "constituting the initial Board of Directors of the Corporation": Chris C. Meng, Chi Tu, Jiyang Xu, and Weiping Zhao. Each of these men and women contributed, in his or her uniquely significant ways, to Bohua's initial success and subsequent growth.

Bohua has come a long way from its humble beginnings. Its programs have been vastly enriched and the scope of its purpose broadened. Today, the programs are not limited to weekend language classes, but provide a vehicle for bringing Chinese culture, art, language, and history to the mainstream American society. Bohua is a regular participant in annual events that celebrate the cultural and ethnic diversity of the Boulder-Denver metropolitan area such as the Colorado Dragon Boat Festival, Boulder Asian Festival, and Chinese New Year celebrations. Students, both children and adults, from the Chinese dance classes have entertained and enchanted audiences from all walks of life - from professionals in the corporate environment to seniors at the Louisville Senior Center and Erie Community Center - with the beauty and grace of traditional Chinese dances.

SHAOLIN HUNG MEI KUNG FU WELCOMES CHINESE NEW YEAR 2009 - YEAR OF THE OX

Chinese New Year 2009, the Year of the Ox, started early for Shaolin Hung Mei Kung Fu. We hosted a workshop for the Chinese language students from the Peak-to-Peak school on January 9 and worked with the children from the WOW Museum on January 19. After the warm up, we went into high gear. During the first full weekend of New Year activities, we performed at both the Yip Foundation Fund Raiser and the Chinese Students and Scholars Association's New Year event on Saturday night January 24 followed by an almost mid-night celebration at the Buddha's Light Temple (the Denver branch of Fo Quan San Si) on Sunday. During the following couple of weeks, we visited shops and restaurants in Boulder and Denver, participated at various organizations celebrations (Organization of Chinese Americans, Asian Pacific Development Foundation, and others) and finished the season with performances at Nederland Community Center and Sacred Hearts Elementary School. After more than 30 events in just a few weeks, we actually had the opportunity to take a break for a couple of weeks before the next round of events which begin at the end of March! Our upcoming performances are listed to the left and an updated schedule can always be found on the events page of our website - www.shaolinhungmei.org.
